Three One-Act Plays Will Comprise Dramatic Treat

"His Model Wife," "Suppressed Desires," and "Wanderlust" at Vulcan Theatre, Monday, April 23

Plans for the forthcoming Dramatic Festival have just been completed and large posters now on display announce in details the program for the event. Two performances of each play will be given on the day of presentation, Monday, April 23. The matinee performance will start at 4.15 for school children and high school students, and will open with the play "Wanderlust," followed by "Suppressed Desires," and "His Model Wife," followed by the other two. In the evening special prelude and interlude music will be provided by the Vulcan concert orchestra under the leadership of Don Forsland.

Tickets will be placed on sale this week and early purchase is advised as the anticipated demand will be heavy.

"His Model Wife"

The first play of the evening is under the direction of Miss Mayme Lebeau. "His Model Wife" by Helen F. Bagge has for its scene an artist's studio. The artist, Mr. Everett, played by J. Harback, is holding a studio tea on the afternoon that his Aunt Agnes, played by Miss M. Lebeau, is expected to visit him. Due to financial reasons Mr. Everett is supposed to be married, and had by letter advised his aunt that he was, although not, and as proof of this sends a portrait of his model, Willy, played by Miss Ethel Campbell. Complications develop when his aunt calls, and Willy makes breaks that give the show away. However, Eleanor Perry, played by Miss M. Munro, Everett's real sweetheart, explains the situation to the aunt and all ends well. Invited to the studio tea are Bella Potts, played by Miss Hope Crockett, Mrs. Mumford Wells, played by Miss Betty Wright, and Mr. Potts played by Don Carson. Necessary in the working of the plot are the maid Mary, played by Miss Carol Marshall, and the artist's friend Bob Parks played by Del Snow. Miss Rhui Clark as a small part as Patsy, the washwoman's daughter. The play is of the delightful light comedy type, with the plot well presented.

"Suppressed Desires"

"Suppressed Desires" is a short satirical play in two scenes, directed by Mrs. W. Ransom. It has the smallest group of characters of any of the three plays, three parts. Characters are Henrietta Brewster by Miss Helen Simington; Stephen Brewster by John Jamieson, and Mabel by Miss Sadie McCartney. Action of the play takes place in the living room of the Brewster home, where Mabel, Mrs. Brewster's sister, is visiting. The plot develops into a satire on the in-

High School Students Organise for Sport

At four o'clock on Tuesday of last week the High School students met in the Grade X room to organize sport. It was decided that the sports organization be separate from the Students' Union. Mr. Irvin and Earl Robson were elected president and vice-president respectively, while Walter Ottewill was elected secretary-treasurer.

After much discussion it was decided that there would be managers of the different sports, these managers to look after everything concerned about the sport in question. The following persons were elected to fill these offices: Mr. Allred to look after baseball; Alma Shaw to supervise the girls' softball, and Ethel Rutten to manage the girls basketball. Bill Wright was elected find out the general attitude of the students towards the fixing up of the school tennis courts. The boys showed little or no interest in softball or basketball, however, indications show that they will be playing these games before long.

There was some discussion about a field and track meet on May 24, and it seems quite possible that the school will make a big sports' day of this holiday.

M.D. OF ROYAL JOINS WITH HEALTH UNIT

Important Motion Passed at Regular Session of the Royal Council on Saturday

Most important of the business transacted at the regular monthly meeting of the council of the Municipal District of Royal held on Saturday was the passing of a motion to the effect that the district would continue as part of the Okotoks-High River Full Time Health Unit. Considerable discussion the matter preceded the passing of the motion, made by Councillor Lundgren. P. E. Bennett was again selected to represent the municipality at the meeting of the board of the unit.

All councillors were present at the meeting. Minutes of the previous meeting were accepted and approved on motion by Councillor Bennett. A number of accounts were passed for payment on motion of Councillor Jensen. Routine business was transacted during the balance of the session.

LOCAL ITEMS

Scratch pads for school work and office, for sale at the Advocate office. A real special, 3 pads, 5x8 inches, good quality paper and plenty of it in each pad, 10 cts.

Seeding is general in the Vulcan district this week. Farmers are all busy with farming operations. Weather conditions with high winds lead with dust blowing every day. No reduction in acreage will be made, but many are trending towards coarse grains.

Fire Chief Allan and the brigade turned out for fire practice with both the pump and chemical equipment on last Wednesday afternoon. Both were tested and every cistern was used during the run around town. Everything was found to be in good working order. Practice and tests are made monthly and the cisterns measured every fifteen days for water depth.

Relief work done in Vulcan this spring has included the laying of several cinder sidewalks. These have been placed in three places, from the Roy Walker residence corner to the Rinehart residence; from the R.C.M. P. barracks to the corner, going north; and from the residence of Mr. Lambert to the property of Mrs. Warden. A graded road has been placed on the west and south sides of the block in which the last mentioned property is situated.

In the interests of International Peace and Goodwill a message from the rural schools will be broadcast this year on May 18th to the children of other lands. All rural schools in the district and the Vulcan schools (Grade VI) are invited to send in goodwill messages. The children should write messages and the teacher select the best or the one composed from several, and send the message to Mrs. M. L. Todd, Box 429, Vulcan, Alberta, not later than May 1st. This is approved by the Department of Education.

The Vulcan Young People's Society held their regular fortnightly meeting in the United Church hall on Wednesday evening last with a good attendance recorded. Final arrangements were made for the staging of the Dramatic Festival under their auspices on Monday next. Ticket sale for the festival was arranged and tickets for the evening performance may be purchased from members of the group. Selection of the adjudicator for the event was left in the hands of a committee, the members suggesting several names from which to make the choice. It was decided to banquet the personnel of the three casts following the presentation of the plays, Miss Mabel McPherson being selected to head a committee to look after the matter.

A Lacrosse Team Vulcan This Summer

Possibilities of League with Nanton, Claresholm and Other Nearby Towns.

There has been a great deal of interest in the game of lacrosse at Vulcan this spring and at the present moment there is a movement afoot to start a team in town and join with Nanton and other interested towns in forming a league. Nanton already has seen the farming of a club this year and it is expected that a meeting will be held at that point shortly to form a league.

Locally, if the sport is promoted, the Elks will sponsor the team, and a committee has been selected to attend the meeting at Nanton and investigate the sport from a local standpoint.

The game is played indoors in an area 160 feet long and 60 feet wide. The skating arena is very suitable and will be utilized if the sport is promoted. For the information of our readers a box lacrosse team consists of seven players, designated as follows: goalkeeper, right and left defence, rover, centre, right forward and left forward. The game is played with netted sticks and a ball, and truly may be called Canada's original game.

Those interested in the game say it will not in anyway interfere with baseball, as it is played indoors and after the hour of the day that baseball can be played. Should a team be formed in Vulcan the complete rules of the game will be printed in these columns.

Vimy Ridge Programme Not Presented - No Audience

Well Arranged Programme But No Audience Turns Up; Artists Are Disappointed

A splendid programme was arranged for presentation in the Vulcan Theatre on Monday evening, April 9, for the Vimy anniversary, but, to the disappointment of both the artists and the members of the Canadian Legion who arranged the entertainment only a handful of people were in the theatre chairs and the event was cancelled.

Capt. J. Shaw, M.C., of Calgary, was at hand to deliver an address, the Vulcan concert orchestra were engaged as well as a number of vocal artists and other entertainers. But all the planning and advance arrangements made were of no avail without the audience. The programme was billed for 8 o'clock and by 8:45, with only a few present, the theatre was thrown into darkness, and the event declared cancelled.

Later in the evening a dance was provided for in the memorial hall, and although the crowd was small, every one attending had a good time. The Sunshine orchestra provided the music.

Victoria Day, May 24, Will Be Celebrated

May the 24th, Victoria Day, will be celebrated in Vulcan this year with a mammoth display of sport and entertainment, and plans are now being made for the celebration. The Vulcan Elks' lodge will be master of ceremonies for the occasion. Complete programme will be arranged before the end of the next week and large posters will be printed announcing the event. The Champion Elks' lodge is this year co-operating with the Vulcan Elks in planning the day's entertainment, and it was agreed that the Vulcan day be the 24th of May, and that the Champion celebration be held on July 1st. Both lodges will assist each other in their respective celebrations.

Features of the day will embrace all kinds of sports. Horse racing, baseball, lacrosse, softball and sports for every member of the family will be enjoyed. Other features, too. Mark the date on your calendar and remember that all roads lead to Vulcan on that date.

Annual Vimy Banquet and Dance Held at Queenstown

Comrades of trench and training ground celebrated the anniversary of Vimy with song and story and much feasting, when the Queenstown members of the Gleichen Branch, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., entertained their friends at Queenstown on Wednesday evening at their annual banquet, and the monster dance which followed.

About 125 sat down to the truly royal spread provided by the ladies of Queenstown, and we do fear that some of the guests succumbed to overpowering temptation to dine not wisely, but too well. What memories of bully beef and biscuit stirred in the minds of the guests we cannot tell, but if memories they had, they were overshadowed by the feast at hand, and happiness and fellowship were most apparent at this happy occasion.

Returned men with their wives, families and friends were present from many surrounding points. Comrades Alex. Walker and Ralph Henderson were on hand from Calgary, and the surrounding towns of Vulcan, Enchant, Gleichen, Arrowwood, Cluny, Shoultice and Milo were represented. Mr. William Osler, Queenstown, president of the Gleichen branch, was master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers with many witty remarks. He paid tribute to Lieut.-Col. A. G. B. Lewis, past president of the Gleichen branch. Mr. Osler's backhanded compliment to Col. Lewis is worth recounting. As he told it, he had on one occasion in his employ in the harvest fields an Irishman, and two Englishmen. The Englishmen, said Mr. Osler, were always praising England to the detriment of Canada, while the Irishman, contrary as Irishmen always are, was standing up for Canada. One day one of the Englishmen remarked that Canada would be all right, don't you know, if they just had a good brainy Englishman to run it. The Irishman was not slow to take up this challenge with the quick wit of his race. "That's all right," he said, "but where in hell would you find a good brainy Englishman?" Mr. Osler indicated there was not a complete dearth of brainy Englishmen, by stating that Col. Lewis was just that.

Lieut.-Col. Lewis was called on to propose the toast to the Dominion Command. He paid tribute to Alex. Ross, Dominion President, and spoke feelingly of the loss to the Legion and Canada in the death of Sir Arthur Currie, Commander of the C.E.F. A minute of silence was observed in memory of General Currie. In replying to the toast to the Dominion Command, Comrade Alex. Walker, provincial representative Dominion Command, after complimenting the ladies on the splendid banquet, described the Dominion convention held recently in Ottawa. He stated the Legion demands nothing more than fair play for returned men. He felt that returned men on relief should be wards of the Federal Government, not subject to the whims and varying rates of local authorities but that they should draw standard relief rates all over the country. He cited the great divergence which exists in relief rates as between the city of Calgary and the adjacent surrounding municipalities. He referred to

WEDDING BELLS

A rather quiet but none the less very pretty wedding took place in St. Andrew's Church, Vulcan on Wednesday, April 18th, when Frances O'Malley of Arrowwood became the bride of Wilfred Callaghan of Alton. The bride's attendant was Miss Eva Ohlheiser of Champion whilst the groom's brother, Mr. John Callaghan acted as best man.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Cunningham who afterwards celebrated the special nuptial mass which is permitted on such occasions and imparted the nuptial blessing to the bride. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. G.M. Whicher, rendered some appropriate hymns and Miss Kathleen Stack sang the "O Salutaris" as an offertory piece. The bride and groom will in future reside on the farm of Mr. B. Lommatzsch, near Vulcan.

TOWN COUNCIL SITS ASCOURT OF REVISION

Hear Appeals of Assessments of Property and Business Tax from Various Ratepayers

On Monday evening the members of the Council of the Town of Vulcan sat in the council chambers as a Court of Revision. All members of the council were present.

The first appeal heard was that of the Texaco Oil Company, represented by their local dealer, Earl Peterson. Appeal was made on the basis of depreciation. The appeal was not allowed.

Mrs. Kemp appealed her business tax. Moved by Councillor Allan that the business tax of Mrs. Kemp be cancelled and that the 1933 tax be retracted due to the fact that no transient boarders are served. Carried.

Dr. H. P. Barker appealed his business tax on the grounds that the office includes a laboratory 9x9. On motion by Councillor Wolfe the appeal was allowed.

A bill for $100 was presented to the council by Dr. Barker for indigent accounts. Moved by Councillor Wittock that Dr. Barker be requested to present the council with an itemized statement of indigent accounts before the matter could be dealt with. Carried.

The Ladies' Aid of the United Church appealed the assessment on Lots 28, 29, 30, Block 5. The appeal was allowed, the property being transferred to the United Church.

The appeal of Mr. Martin Peterson was allowed due to the fact that he had moved to smaller premises.

The several other appeals heard were not allowed.

FIRE BRIGADE MAKES FIRST RUN OF THE YEAR

Shrieks of the fire siren called the Vulcan fire brigade to the first fire of the year on Saturday morning at about 9:30 o'clock. The call was made to the small building used by the B.C. Tailors for cleaning clothes with gasoline, situated on the property opposite the McQueen blacksmith shop. Due to the quantity of gasoline in the building, the place was a mass of flames before the fire fighting apparatus arrived. However, the flames were quickly extinguished when the water was turned on. The fire started when the Chinese workman was in the act of rinsing some garments in clean gasoline. Due to the friction the gas exploded. The Chinaman escaped from the holocaust with severe burns on his arms, and same to his clothing. This is the second time the brigade has made the run to this same building, due to the same cause.

Lady Curlers Wind up Season's Activities

The lady curlers of Vulcan held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Roy Gold on Thursday afternoon, April 12th with a good attendance of the members present. In the absence of Mrs. J. Wolfe, the president, Mrs. Gold took charge of the meeting.

From the secretary's report it was noted that the club had a very successful season, ready to start the coming season with a small cash balance. All members were enthusiastic over the success of the club.

The under noted officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. H. B. Ulrich; vice-president, Mrs. Roy Gold (re-elected); secretary treasurer, Mrs. Wm. MacKintosh (re-elected).

Mrs. Gold presented Mrs. Denbigh with the D.M.P. cup and prizes. Mrs. Denbigh, on behalf of herself and rink thanked the club for the cup and the nice prizes.

The business meeting then adjourned, and Mrs. Gold, the hostess, served a delicious tea, which was enjoyed by all. The hearty thanks of the members was extended to Mrs. Gold for the very pleasant afternoon, the keen interest she takes in curling, being appreciated by all the members of the club.

News Items Gleaned Around the Town

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Clayton, at the Vulcan hospital, on Thursday, April 12, a son. Congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Alston and daughter returned to Vulcan on Saturday evening after an absence of four years. During this time they have been residing at Spanaway, Wash. They intend to take up farming in the Ensign district.

Members of the Vulcan Tennis Club have, during the past week, been preparing the courts in preparation for the season's activities. A good rain will be needed to get the ground in proper shape, before any games can be played.

According to an announcement made in the April 11th issue of the Gleichen Call, P. B. Discher, Vulcan's jeweller will make weekly visits to that town every Monday for the purpose of making watch and clock repairs.

Next week end the C.P.R., through the local ticket office, will provide Vulcan and district with another bargain cent-a-mile trip to Calgary and return. These week end excursions have proved popular with dozens on several occasions during the past six months, and this one should be no exception.

The Good Deeds W. I. met at the home of Mrs. T. Shaw for the regular monthly meeting. Twenty members were present. Roll call was answered by garden hints and exchange of seeds. Eleven members attended the constituency conference at Calgary. The report of the conference was given by Mrs. E. Lilly, the delegate. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Parsons.

A recent change has been made in the personnel of the staff of the Imperial Hotel. Joe McKie who has been on the staff for the past year has been transferred to the hotel in Taber owned by Mr. Dobbs, and Jim Kennedy, a former resident, returns from his Taber position to Vulcan. In the exchange there has been both farewells and welcomes from the many friends of both.

The Champion Chronicle reports the biggest success of the season at the old timers fiddling contest held at that town recently. The fiddlers contest was won by Barney Hummel, T. Platt of Brant' gaining second place. The nearest prize to come Vulcan way was won by Mrs. Walt Glen of Reid Hill. She won the hog calling contest. The affair was sponsored by the Cleverville Pioneers.

Messrs. L. H. Greene, W.D. Allan, L. A. Wright and G. C. Collier attended the annual meeting and smoker of the High River Fish and Game Protective Association held in High River on Wednesday evening of last week. They report an enjoyable evening, and managed to arrive home without any mishaps. That is their report; word to the contrary has not been received from High River.

On Tuesday evening of last week over twenty-five members of the Edith Cavell Chapter, O.E.S., Calgary, paid a fraternal visit to the Ferrolle Chapter in Vulcan. Many of the visitors for the evening included members from Champion and Carmangay. After the business meeting the guests and local members enjoyed a luncheon. The visitors made the journey to and from Vulcan by special bus.

The town grader in charge of Wm. Ritchie, assisted by Web Bride at the controls of the caterpillar has this week been making the rounds of the streets deepening the ditches and repairing the grades as part of the spring work program arranged by the public works committee of the town council. As last year, the government scarifier will be engaged to put the main thoroughfares in proper condition. Many culverts will be replaced and the new portion of the skating arena painted, according to H. B. Ulrich, chairman of this committee.

CHARLES CLARK, Proprietor

IT SURELY ISN'T YOU

A recent visitor to this district who has been travelling extensively in other parts of Alberta, as well as in the South-Western States, made the observation that there are few districts that live to themselves in these days. Voluntarily or involuntarily almost all come under the inspection of the ever-passing tourist who forms his impressions of a community from the appearance of the homes there. Under modern conditions each wayside home, contributes to the favorable or unfavorable impression left by any given district.

Commenting further, this visitor remarked that Alberta farm homes did not present the appearance of interest and devoted attention, that is noticeable in most rural areas of California, for example. There, the fruit growers or ranch owners, though in quite as serious difficulties as the Alberta land owners, are much more regardful of the appearance of their property. Their "off" months are devoted to careful, and at times to artistic fencing. They are generous with paint, and those personal touches in beautification, which enhance the appearance and value of a property, but cost little in cash outlay. Their work in this respect is based on a love of sightliness and neatness, and the result is a "homey" appearance, which is within the range of all.

Referring to Alberta, the visitor said that some districts between Calgary and Edmonton made a much more favorable impression than our own district round. The neat fencing, the general tidiness, the well painted buildings and the apparent love of trees left a memory of stable, enduring, home-loving communities, taking a pride in ownership.

It is for us as individuals, to take this comment to ourselves. Do our homes and surroundings give indication of our mental and sentimental attitude to our property? Its appearance shows the value we place upon it, and helps to set values for the entire district. It is our perpetual advertisement of our standards of living and our ambition. Taken over the years, there is no part of Alberta richer in yield than this district, nor more favorably placed for possibilities of beautification. But there are many of our homes where fences are allowed to fall into disrepair, where barn doors hang loose on their hinges, where machinery and discarded gear strewn the yards, and where homes are neither painted nor whitewashed.

There are homes quite barren of the gentling influence of trees. Much of this work can be accomplished in the more leisurely months and between seasons. It is profitable work, because it not only enhances the value and enjoyment of his home to the owner, but it enhances the general value of property. If every individual should set himself to improve the appearance of his place within the limit of his ability, the passing traveller would carry a much more vivid memory of the happy comfortable, relatively prosperous community, that this actually is. At least, it lies in our own hands to make a favorable first impression. And who knows to what these first impressions may lead?

SIGNIFICANT — STARTLING

It is not only Major Douglas and other economists who believe that the money system of Britain, and of the world, has broken down. To their ranks have been added a British group of financiers and industrialists who demand a Parliamentary probe into the British money system. This is regarded by many as the most significant incident of the past four years, indicating the recognition by financiers themselves, that the present system fails to meet the needs of the present times.

Leaders of commerce and industry in England, headed by Sir Geoffrey Clarke, Sir Stanley Machin, Sir Maurice Jenkins and others, declare that the modern parade of poverty in the midst of plenty has gone too far, and that a new system must be evolved. This system must have as its object the issue and recall of currency and credit in such a manner that the money tokens will be available to the consumer in sufficient amount that he may enjoy the output of production. The purchasing power of the community has been made insufficient to buy the whole product of industry, through monetary defects.

"The object of production is consumption," they say, "and with approximately 90,000,000 people destitute or nearly so, amongst those nations alone which keep statistics, it cannot be said that the desire to consume is not present. The primary functions of production and distribution are frustrated."

They quote King George's speech at the opening of the World Conference when he said that it surely was not beyond the power of man to use the resources of the world for the material progress of all civilization.

The signatories of this demand for Parliamentary inquiry, stress the urgency of the present need, and state that it is quite unnecessary to wait for international action as other countries will find it essential to follow Britain's lead.

The voices of economists and humanitarians have been raised in protest against the inadequacy of the monetary system to maintain the flow of produce to consumer. When leaders of commerce and industry join the ranks the governments may take notice.

THE OIL MAN'S VIEW

In discussing the advantages of a southern outlet from the Turner Valley oil fields, an oil company official from one of the central locations, favored it strongly. It is not unreasonable to suppose that his viewpoint is shared by a great proportion of the oil men of the Valley.

He referred to the serious congestion that results from the lack of a southern outlet. The fact that business cars, visitors' cars, trucks moving equipment, oil tanks, etc., must all go-and come by the same route, causes a delay in progress, and places a heavy burden upon the one road. This loss in time is realized acutely at present, when activity has reached a high peak especially in the lower end of the field.

Referring also to the burden on the one highway which must carry the whole movement it was his opinion that the government would find it cheaper in the long run to build the Hartell-High River outlet. The nature of the traffic in and out of the Valley is particularly hard on a road. The size of the vehicles meeting each other necessitates a wide outswing that taxes the road to its full width, and is hard on the shoulders. In time the road will be a heavy cost for maintenance unless the traffic gets relief. The continual meeting of these heavy trucks with others equally formidable is hard on the trucks themselves, and the outlet at the south end would greatly minimize all this trouble and eventual expense.

Many of the oil companies also have connections in the south-eastern part of the province. They are continually moving casing and other material between the Valley and the Lethbridge fields. They too, feel the expense and delay in being forced to the circuitous route by Black Diamond.

This is the viewpoint of an oil man, who feels that High River should never cease to urge the need of the road, not from the standpoint of the town of High River, but from the standpoint of service to all Southern Alberta and to the oil area itself. In his opinion it is a necessary project to preserve the quality of the present road, and the cost would be saved in maintenance of the northern route a cost which will become necessary if it has to continue caring for the congestion in traffic.

He suggested that private members in the Legislature have not the slightest conception of the magnitude of the Valley industry. The majority are in ignorance of the huge investment in the field, and the real and potential wealth. In the minds of many no doubt, it still ranks as a little experimental project in the southern part of the province. If they could see the situation for themselves they would readily grasp the importance of the Hartell-High River highway as a provincial necessity.

AMONGST FRIENDS

Dramatic efforts are being made by authorities of Canada, to clear James Fahey, 46 year old Jasper Park carpenter, from the overhang of Leavenworth penitentiary. Most citizens are now familiar with the story of this man. As a youth of 20 he was arrested for complicity in a U.S. mail robbery and sentenced for life to Leavenworth penitentiary, from which he escaped in 1910, during a sensational jail break. Coming shortly after to Canada he has lived in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta for 24 years and had established himself as an honest, trustworthy citizen. Last fall he was poaching in Jasper Park, a minor offence which is scarcely reckoned in the category of crime. But his fingerprints were taken and forwarded to Ottawa where they were identified as those of one of the lifers who escaped from Leavenworth in 1910.

His arrest was the first intimation to his wife and family, to his friends and associates in Canada, that he had ever lived other than an honest upright life. There has resulted one of the most unusual situations in the history of justice in Canada. His wife and family stood by him, which might be taken for granted, since their actual experience of the man far outweighed this remote episode of the past. His neighbors in Jasper, rose up in a body, interceding with authorities for his release and standing his $10,000 bail. From Spirit River where he once home-stayed, from hamlets and towns in various parts of the West, came the voices of friends, urging his good character and begging for his release. The force and unanimity of opinion made itself felt in the Legislature at Edmonton, with Premier Brownlee and with Prime Minister Bennett. Their appeal to the American courts of justice was based on the 24 years of useful, honorable citizenship in Canada, and there seems no doubt that the President and Department of Justice will consent to a free pardon or parole.

Incidentally, it is said that Fahey was not guilty of the robbery for which he was arrested but was mixed up with wrong associates. This however, does not seem to loom so largely as the other features of the situation. In the minds of all those connected with him during his life in Canada, he has justified every demand of family and friends. This wipes the slate clean. His life is rather a striking evidence that it is possible to "go straight" after a false step has been taken, that a man with will can beat back to honest citizenship and can build up a reserve of goodwill or fellow citizens—that is his salvation in times of stress. In such a crisis, or in any crisis, life is out on character, and the reward is the unwavering faith of the neighbors and those who know.

Another thought occurs in connection with this situation. If Fahey had lived in a little side street in a large city, known only to a small circle of associates, would his rescue have been attempted or accomplished?

One is impressed anew with the solidarity, the warmth, the strength of a small community. When one member is threatened, everybody knows, and the accused stands or falls on the merits of the community knowledge of him. Jasper village came together to a man, to Fahey's support. They set about the rescue so competently, so decisively that they left no loophole of doubt as to their meaning. One of the finest features of the story is the spirit of the small community. It is in such environment that people come together closely, know each other intimately and are ready to back that knowledge with a thrilling loyalty and action.

COMMUNITY SALE

The town of Grande Prairie is shortly to be the scene of a mammoth community sale, at which all conceivable produce of the farm is to be offered at auction. Entries of livestock, grain, machinery and household goods have come in from a wide area, and if roads are good the countryside will converge on the northern town. Some will come to buy and some to sell, and it is anticipated that there will be a big circulation of money as well as the fulfillment of many needs.

As an extra drawing card, the stores are running special values in certain lines, so that in addition to an auction sale, there will be real sales in every store.

The Grande Prairie idea seems worthy of adoption in other centres, where the spring season brings needs in the way of paint, implements, clothing, seeds, and all those goods which fill the shops and should be disposed of. A combination of auction sale and bargain sale should satisfy real need in any country district at this season of the year.

Only Firestone hasSAFE-T-LOCKED CORDS

TODAY'S driving conditions put a terrific strain on tires. That is why you need the strongest and safest—Firestone, with their Safe-T-Locked cords.

In this patented construction every part of the tire body is welded together with pure rubber so that everything moves as a single unit eliminating internal friction—the greatest enemy of tire life. For this reason alone it pays to buy Firestone, but in addition you get all the Firestone extra values that give 25 to 40% extra tire life and a guarantee for one year at no extra cost.

Replace thin, worn tires now—see the nearest Firestone Dealer today.

the desire of the Legion for peace, to the fact that the war was to be a war to end war, and he felt that if that could not be accomplished and this land made a land where all could live in peace and reasonable comfort, that the sacrifice of 10,000,000 lives had been in vain. Comrade Walker presented Col. Lewis with a bar to his B.E.S.L. badge, as past president of the Gleichen branch. Col. Lewis expressed his thanks, and the company sang "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and gave Col. Lewis three cheers and a tiger.

The toast to the Provincial Command was proposed by Comrade J. Greer, vice-president of the branch, who stated Gleichen had been given the distinctive number 13 as it was a distinctive branch. In reply, Comrade Ralph Henderson brought fraternal greetings from Calgary Branch No. 1 and the Provincial Command. While agreeing that the Pension Act was splendid legislation, he pointed out several particulars which he felt required attention. In referring to Col. George Drew's resolution on World Peace at the recent Dominion Convention, he stated that the convention got to its feet as one man and cheered when the resolution was put. He felt that the returned men of all nations could draft plans for world peace that would ensure an end of war.

The toast to the ladies was proposed by Honorary President L. Michael, of Gleichen, and was replied to in a few well chosen words by Mrs. Wm. Osler, Queenstown.

Mr. Steve Williams, Queenstown, in proposing the toast to the visitors, extended to all the guests the welcome of the community, and stated that he felt the district had been honored by the Gleichen branch in the choosing of their president from the Queenstown district. He felt that Mr. Osler would prove well worthy of their confidence. In reply, Mr. James Black,

ALBERTA TRADE AND INDUSTRY ACT

Legislative Action to Deal with Hours, Prices, Etc. of All Industries

The widely discussed bill which has been before the Legislature as an assistance to Trade and Industry within the province provides for:

(1) A bureau of trade and industry headed by a director.

(2) Inquiry by the director at any time into any trade or industry where he believes conditions therein are detrimental to the industry or to the public.

(3) The director to arrange conferences of organizations to draw up a code for each with the object of ending unfair competition and setting fair prices, regulating hours and wages. If 60 per cent. of the persons engaged in any trade agree on the code it will be binding for all members of that trade. Amendments to codes may be made on the same basis. If members of a trade do not agree on a code the director and his advisory board will draw up a code themselves.

(4) Registration of all persons engaged in any trade and prohibiting unregistered persons from carrying on that trade.

(5) Licensing of all persons engaged in any trade and prohibiting unlicensed persons from carrying on that trade.

(6) Prohibiting the sale of any commodity designated at a price less than the invoice cost plus cost of carrying on business.

Minimum Wage

1. Inquiry into wages paid in any business.

2. Formation of associations of employees without interference by employers.

3. Maximum fine of $500 or six months for individuals, and $2000 for corporations violating provisions of the act.

The act applies to wholesale and retail dealers, druggists, printers, restaurant keepers, barbers, etc.

Object

The object would be to put an end to competitive practices which are detrimental in their nature to those engaged in the trade or industry or to the public. The codes would fix minimum price standards and also deal with conditions and hours of employment and wages of those employed.

Due to the extreme competition of the past two years, wages had fallen below the point that would assure a reasonable standard of living.

Gleichen, stated he believed the Legion should make every effort to make their problems better known to the citizens not in their organization.

All speakers urged on the returned men the importance of supporting and joining their organization, and strengthening their influence on legislation, as well as serving the purpose of promoting goodwill and good fellowship among themselves. Several speakers mentioned that the constitution of the Legion is based on the Golden Rule.

Midway in the speeches, Comrade Ralph Henderson led everyone in a good old fashioned sing-song "Tipperary" Mademoiselle from Armentiers and Pack All Your Troubles." At the insistence of the guests, Mr. Henderson sang for the company, choosing a song sung by the Calgary delegates to the Dominion convention, "We're from Calgary."

In closing the speaking, Comrade Osler expressed the thanks of the Queenstown members to all those who had contributed to the splendid success of the banquet.

The kitchen arrangements were in charge of Mrs. H. Jorgenson; Mrs. F. Schultz and Mrs. Wm. Blowers; and coffee, tea and ice cream were served by Miss Verna McLaughlin, Miss Hazel Miller, Miss Dorothy Mallett, Miss Marie O'Leary and Miss Eleanor O'Leary, all of whom were dressed in dainty uniforms with headbands of red, white and blue. The banquet hall itself was tastefully decorated.

A monster dance in the community hall followed the banquet. The music was supplied by Si Hopkins Radio Orchestra, and delighted everyone. Many old time dances were featured. James Smith and Dave Brown danced the sword dance to the pleasure of all. In the grand march the ladies drew numbers to decide who should be Mademoiselle from Armentiers. Miss Gertrude Webber of Calgary was the lucky lady, and she and her partner, Mr. Olaf Leland, Majorville, received prizes. Prizes were also awarded in a spot waltz. There was some difficulty in getting around, but everyone was happy.

Objections

The current objection raised to this Act is that the consumer appears to be the forgotten man.

Another request is that the Act should not come into force until there is similar legislation from the dominion.

The competition of mail order houses outside the province is a threat which should have some coverage. It is felt that unless similar legislation is enacted in other provinces, outside companies could ship into Alberta at prices lower than those in the province. Protection is urged against house to house canvassers.

It is further urged that there should be right of appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision of the Board. A section should be added by which no code could be operative till it has been published and thoroughly studied.

Belgian radium firms are said to have scouts through the Great Bear area.

An order for 21 bronzes for Namaka Farm has been given to a farmer at Brooks.

Representatives of 15 nations are in Rome for the wheat conference. They will be given a brighter picture of Europe than seen by the delegates to the London parley last August. In practically all of the continental countries for which returns are available, the acreage sown to winter wheat has been reduced, in some instances only slightly, but in others up to nearly 6 per cent.

A speaker at the annual post season hockey banquet, when praising the hockey players, remarked that they lacked a sense of real humor. He might have gone further and stated that this also applied to some of the executive and also to a portion of the fans. He stated that players should smile when they lose, just as they smile when they win. This also applies with equal force to the other two important factors of the hockey fabric, the executive and fans.—Drumheller Review.

LOOKING at the NEWS with COL. HUGH CLARK

Herr Hitler is a dictator but when he saw a religious row starting among the German Protestant denominations he decided to keep out of it. Even a dictator may sometimes have to use diplomacy and qualify his valor with discretion.

A writer says men are greater gossips than women. In the olden days women did not have the entire into the livery stables and cobbler's shops where local gossip was retailed and affairs of state discussed. These institutions have gone or have ceased to serve. Where now are the men's schools for scandal? In other words, how do they get that way?

A U. S. judge rules that the back-seat driver has legal responsibility with the front-seat driver. She'll have something to say about that too.

Significant of the decline in Prohibition strength is the fact that the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature did not officially oppose the government's wine and beer bill. But more significant is the change of name from "Prohibition Union" to "Temperance Union" made recently by that organization. It is official recognition that the revolt against prohibition, in the United States as well as Canada, cannot be withstood. It is good strategy to retire to lines that can be more easily defended and from which occasional sorties can be made.

We won't legalize Canadian sweepstakes, but if a Canadian takes chances on the Irish Sweepstakes and wins, we make it legal for someone who has taken no chances at all to inform and get the money. The winner gets over this difficulty by having a near relative lay the information and issue a writ, but he is out of luck if he does not take action against himself in time. When we attempt to make people virtuous by legislation we do make a mess of it. In this instance we offer a handsome premium to a sneak-thief who will set in operation a law that is intended to prevent gambling in lotteries, but that succeeds only in encouraging a racket.

The French language is a very facile vehicle of expression. Mme. Normandin says that in Paris she heard a man reproaching his wife for being dirty and the expression used was "fleur de salete" (flower of filth).

A renewal of the old entente cordiale with Britain is desired by France. Britain's terms, should include abandonment of France of submarines that might be used against Britain. Nations nowadays have to treat their friends as potential enemies and their enemies as potential friends.

A radio fan says that when he was operated on he did not have any static.

Hon. Chas. Murphy asserted in the Senate that that body had saved this country $103,000,000, mainly by rejecting railway bills that had passed the House of Commons. He indicated the railways that were projected and their very names carry with them approval of the Senate's action. If in those mad days Canada had been governed by a Senate only, this country would be half-a-billion dollars better off than it is, but there would be no Senate today. The people clamoring for public expenditure would have rebelled against it as a reactionary chamber opposed to progress and would have abolished it in favor of an elective body looking for electoral support, and buying it with public money.

It is all very well to suggest that a bank director should not be allowed to borrow from the bank of which he is a director but what are people likely to think of the bank when they hear that even its own directors do business with some other bank.

A theatrical critic declares that most of the historical plays now presented on the screen are a perversion of history. That's what comes of following the text-books too closely.

A banker should never ask one good customer to endorse another's paper. Inter-locking borrowers are more objectionable than inter-locking directors.

President Roosevelt vetoed congressional plans to increase veteran allowances and federal workers pay and the Senate and the House of Representatives override his veto by large majorities. They add more than two hundred million dollars to the already high expenditure without making any provision to meet it by taxation. All they have in mind is to garner votes in the forthcoming elections. It is nothing to them that in doing this they are shooting holes in to the President's recovery programme and burdening the taxpayers for many years with wholly unnecessary and unjustifiable expenditures. The last estate of those United States will be worse than the first.

It is nothing to them that during the elections of Nov. 1932 Roosevelt regarded as the prime consideration a reduction in expenditure and that on becoming President he adopted the very opposite course. Some of them viewed his spending programme with alarm and now they are going him one better by adding a couple of hundred millions to it. If we were giving tips on the market we would say sell the U.S. dollar short. It's on the toboggan.

COUNTRYSIDE IS GOPHER RIDDEN

Big Immigration from Saskatchewan Last Year; Must be Destroyed Now

The countryside is alive with gophers. The tremendous numbers apparent this spring are said to be due to a big migration from Saskatchewan and dryer areas of Alberta last fall. For this reason every one is urged to set out gopher poison now. One killed now is worth two or three dozen a few weeks from now. If they are not checked early they will be a real menace before long. Some farmers have been setting out poison, but others have not done so, and the need requires a concerted effort. Some precautions are necessary in using gopher poison, and many go to the trouble of putting the poison down the holes, to make sure that the wrong man won't be killed.

The checking of the unwelcome gopher crop is something that farmers must attend to individually.

"Does my practicing make you nervous?" asked the man who was learning to play a saxophone. "It did when I first heard the neighbors discussing it," replied the man next door, "but I'm getting so now I don't care what happens to you."

ELKS WILL STAGE DANCE COMPLIMENTARY TO HOCKEY TEAM

Better late than never, say the Vulcan Bills as they completed arrangements for a dance complimentary to their 1933-34 season hockey team last week end. Date set for the event is Friday, April 27th and the orchestra engaged is one ever popular with the Vulcan crowd—Len Davis and his Royal Arcadians. The dance will be staged in the Oddfellows hall, commencing at 9:30 o'clock. All members of the hockey team will be present and it is expected that each will be called upon to say a few words, giving their impressions of the season just past. Posters have been printed by the Advocate Printery advertising the dance, further information as to the admission price, etc., may be obtained from these.

Three One-Act Plays Comprise Dramatic

Interpretation of dreams and the theories of psychoanalysis. The first scene shows the Brewsters at the breakfast table, with Mabel telling of a dream she had had during the night Mrs. Brewster has set ideas on the psychoanalytic interpretation of the dream. She drives both her husband and Mabel to the doctor and the second scene gives the interpretation each received when they were "psyched." The suppressed desires of each character are well brought out in the cleverly written lines of the play.

"Wanderlust"

The third play of the group, "Wanderlust," is an entirely different play than the others and is of the dramatic type. Characters in the play are Isaac Pollant, by Norman Lockhart; Mrs. Goldie Pollant, by Miss Marjorie Hill; Bernice Pollant by Miss Harriet Discher; Milton Pollant by Garnet Discher; Sidney Hiem by Albert Collier, and Padriac Kerrigan by Bob McElroy. The scene of the play takes place in the Pollant tenement-flat in the Bronx, New York, and the plot tells of the hopeless struggle of Mr. Pollant against his wife and children, they wanting to move to a classic part of the city on money left by a relative who had died. But Pollant, a lover of literature and music, wants to travel to Europe on the money, where he can visit Italy, the land of music and poets. Urged on by Kerrigan, a socialist friend, he rebels against the family, to find that they think he is out of his mind. On this the plot swings. The play is directed by Bob McElroy.

All the plays are different in their type and should provide the audience with a variety of dramatic talent. Each play will average about forty-five minutes playing time.

LOCAL ITEMS

Norman Lockhart was a Calgary visitor for a few days last week.

Frank Rutten was a recent visitor in Raymond and Magrath.

Mrs. A. Jockem of Wainor, Alta., was a caller at the home of Mrs. Mary Bittorf, last week.

Mrs. Fred Morrison of Blackie, sister of Mr. Con. Kettleton won $500 in a recent old country sweepstake.

Mrs. A. Wismer and daughters, Wilma and Ruth, spent the Easter holidays with her sister, Mrs. Wm. Peters of Kirkcaldy.

Eddie Love is on night patrol duty around the town during the time Mr. Ritchie, the regular night man, is working on the town grader.

Play entitled "Headstrong Joan," sponsored by the Reid Hill U.F.W.A. at the community hall on Friday, April 27th at 9 o'clock. Dancing will follow the play. Good music.

The Intermediate Girls of the C.G. I.T. held a successful tea in the United church hall on Saturday afternoon. Patronage was good and the girls better their treasury by about $12.00 through their endeavors.
